Happy New Year!

It's nice to be back to full weeks of school this month (except the week of the 20th). The children (and their teachers) do so much better with the consistency.

We are cruising right along in Geography this month, continuing our journey across the United States. So far we have learned 16 states and their capitols along with a fact (or two) about each state. Not only can the kids recite them, they can even locate them on our map. This month we will begin learning a states and capitals song that will make it even easier for the children to remember all they have learned.

In art we continue learning about a number of artists, including Van Gogh, Kandinsky, and Mondrian. The children's artwork will be displayed during Open House next month and will be sent home in a keepsake art book at the end of the school year.

We will have hot lunch every Friday this month. Please watch for order forms in your child's Enrichment folder. (On the Friday during Mission's Week you will not need to pay for hot lunch as the school provides it on that day). The children will be eating lunch a little earlier on that day so please send a hearty snack with them. We will have snack a bit earlier in the day.

We are in need of additional spoons and forks. If your child did not bring in a box at the beginning of the school year, this would be a great time to bring them.

Please note, we don't have school on February 20th.

Warmly,
Mrs. Pfankuch
